“FOUR YEARS of English in high school and four more in college! How will I ever stick it out?” This comment has been heard innumerable times from Freshmen who are bowed down by that burdening thought. But, oddly, they will go through it all and will fully enjoy the fascinating experiences and the indispensable knowledge gained through the grammar and literature departments of the heretofore abhorred English. It is not uncommon in the dignified corridors of Bellevue High School to hear some avid Shakespearean student cry in the agony of examination, “O, vengeance!” or sigh with bovine visage in the throes of infatuation, “Good-night, good-night! Parting is such sweet sorrow!” What more could be expected of high school English students?

From the potpourri of prodigious phrases emanating from the class rooms in Bellevue High School, the astounded listener gathers the knowledge that the Foreign Languages Department is putting the students through the prescribed paces in Spanish, French, and Latin. Under the directions of the able instructors, who strive constantly to create new methods for maintaining the interest of the classes at the highest possible level, the novice comes readily to appreciate the historical background of his native tongue and to delight in the cultural values gained from studying one or more languages other than his own.

ANCIENT MR. JONAH, according to record, was to make Biblical history in Nineveh. Trying to sidestep, he landed in a whale of a story. Modern students, calling for fish yarns to escape recitations in Bellevue High School, swallowed the instructor's piscatorial presentations and found themselves hooked on history. Page Mr. Shope!

Jonah was cast out. The students were downcast. So will social studies confound those who would rather run than read. But the wise found in problems of democracy, history, and commercial law admirable guides to their running.

COMMERCIAL SUBJECTS

THE clicking of typewriters, the chatter of adding machines, and the whisperings of pens and pencils on paper introduce the Commercial Department of Bellevue High School. Do you aspire to become a stenographer, a secretary, an accountant, or an auditor? Here is the way to that possibility. Business English, commercial law, commercial geography, office practice, bookkeeping, shorthand, typewriting, and business training are in the curriculum. As the subjects frequently are the last of the formal education for many students, careful training is given. The Commercial Department has developed rapidly in the last few years. Its growth, in fact, has exceeded that of any other department in the high school. Present facilities have been taxed by the enrollment, but the school heads unquestionably will keep pace with demands.

ARE you artistically inclined? The art course will provide the thrill that comes from a brush in your hand.

Or does your thought run toward working in wood? Take a whirl at manual training.

For pure relaxation, step into the auditorium, listen to the crack orchestra, and give ear to the chorus or the dramatic productions. They'll delight you.

If you want to read, there is the quiet library inviting you to review its shelves and make selections from its tempting offerings.

PAUL R. ZUNDEL
Coach

YES, GIRLS! Bellevue High School offers excellent courses in cooking and sewing. Here you can acquire rhythm on the range and develop skill in exterior decorating that will put to shame the remedial stitch in time.

Did some mention sports? Who hasn't heard of Bellevue's teams? Although you may not make teams in your Freshman and Sophomore years, ample opportunity for competitive ability and stamina lies ahead.

Excellent physical training in the gymnasium through inter-class sports and swimming classes is available to all.

S MELL the peculiar odor seeping out under this door? That's the chemistry lab.

Here the rattle beyond that door? That's equipment in the physics lab.

Who are the students moving in that haze? The mathematicians, my friend.

Let the olfactory organ of a chemistry student be tickled by a scent, and a desire is created for test tubes and a chance for some great discovery in chemical engineering. In the physics lab, we find the yearning for knowledge of the atom, the solar system, and the reaches of science. No progress is achieved without mathematics. By the guidance of our able instructors, the paths to understanding and inspiration are cleared.

Cherub-like face . . . captivating smile . . . starry eyes . . . piquant . . . sketching is her favorite pastime . . . came from Perry . . . two years ago . . . a brilliant scholar . . . but doesn't spend much time studying.

MARTHA JOHNSON

"Bobbie" is blond . . . attractive . . . unconcerned . . . but more important . . . not conceited . . . happy-go-lucky . . . unsophisticated . . . always enjoys a good time . . . "Bobbie" is an advocate of a "more school spirit" campaign.

FRANK JONES

Sixty-four inches of vitality . . . "Herky" just bubbles over with pep . . . hails from Ross Township . . . hence his attraction to "Barnes" . . . a capable "Annualite".

MARTHA KAISER

"Mart" is tiny . . . reserved . . . composed . . . quaint . . . but loads of fun . . . another welcome contribution from West View . . . especially interested in Perry . . . wonder why?

SUZANNE KAY

Bellevue owes Alliquipa a debt of gratitude for . . . "Sukey" . . . this popular newcomer . . . attractive . . . black curly crop of hair . . . bewitching eyes . . . personality plus . . . an enthusiastic G. A. C. . . an "it" girl.

MARGARET KEIR

"Marg" has divided her time . . . between school and the hospital . . . deserves to be commended . . . for keeping up her studies . . . during long illness . . . she's sure to go far!

MARY LIPFORD

Mary got "A" in Trig . . . that's something . . . she just came to us last year . . . bright . . . clever . . . but quiet . . . a valuable member of the Belle-Hop Staff.

WALTER LOGAN

"Walt" plays the fiddle in the orchestra . . . also one of the leading basses in the Mixed Chorus . . . he's interested in science and the Photo Club . . . a member of the Belle-Hop Staff.

FRANK LUDWIG

Frank is a star fullback of our football team . . . peach of a dancer . . . appreciates the atmosphere in West View . . . the clown of Room 4 . . . always making some sort of a noise.

SENIOR

FLORENE LUGAR

Amiable . . . ready, willing, and able . . . this is our capable Annual typist . . . excellent commercial student . . . would be the perfect secretary . . . although she hopes to become a doctor.

JOE LUTHER

As the "eyes" go, so goes Luther . . . a stylist of individualism . . . note his walk . . . fine dilettantism . . . for women? . . . loves his sleep . . . and Annual period . . . we wonder why . . . early to bed . . . early to rise . . . so rises Luther to oblivion.

MARGARET McCAMPBELL

"Marg" is our pianist for everything . . . has been orchestra and Glee Club accompanist for four years . . . went with "Pat" for awhile . . . but then "Marg" likes them all . . . the latest one is "Wally" from Dormont.

DOROTHY McCLOSKEY

"Dot" works summers at her dad's "shop" . . . G. A. C. member . . . likes all sports . . . but hates study periods . . . said so in a ballad she wrote for English . . . a "Home Ec-er" . . . Nancy's pal.

THOMAS MEIGHAN

"Tom" is tall and handsome . . . happy-go-lucky . . . that way about Frances . . . enjoys swimming . . . has a charming smile . . . and a personality one can't overlook . . . plays class basketball.

JAMES MEYER

Tall dark haired . . . loves to make noise . . . especially with his heel plates . . . walks as if asleep . . . as he is always banging into desks.

WILLIAM MILLIKEN

"Red" is president of Hi-Y . . . has really red hair . . . popular with boys . . . and girls . . . once having met him you'll never forget him . . . bound to go far.

NELSON MOFFETT

Nelson is truly "the answer to a maiden's prayer" . . . but he is true to one . . . Helen . . . broke his leg playing football for the old Alma Mater . . . came to us in our Junior year from Williamsport . . . Hi-Y member.

To one of the nicest girls in town

SENIOR

*So smooth girl.
She likes to know your favorite but not*

JAMES MORGAN

Good-natured fellow . . . hardly ever seen without his pipe . . . seems to prefer Avalon girls to those from Bellevue . . . his favorite pastime . . . sleeping . . . rather slow but eventually gets there.

FRANCES JANE MOUNTSIER

“AS THE keystone is placed by the builder to hold the perfect arch in perpetual stability, so the structure of our education must be held firm and true to the virtues represented by this symbol, the torch.”

The purpose of this organization is to bear forward the searching light of Truth, to lead that others may follow in the light, to keep burning in the school a high ambition for the enduring values of life. Members are selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character, and service. Thus, when one is chosen, he enters with the full intentions of upholding this organization and of carrying out its purpose to the fullest extent.

DO YOU REMEMBER, if nothing more, those special sections for the students at the home football games? Or the basketball ticket sales? Or the dances sponsored by the representatives of the student body?

Yes, the Student Council fostered those features for the satisfaction and entertainment of all the students.

The Student Council is composed of one student from each room, the presidents of the respective classes and clubs, and one representative from each publication. Seven representatives who serve with the council's officers form the executive committee. The council represents the student body in all school projects, aids in the general organization of the school and promotes in all ways the best interests of school and students.

“BECAUSE there are thoughts in a girl’s mind deeper than laughter, because there are hidden yearnings in a girl’s heart, because there is a thirst in a girl’s soul to know God and his goodness, this high school club of Girl Reserves has been organized.” These lovely words from The Installation Services symbolize more truly than any trite phrases the true spirit of our organization. For the lessons that are learned, the responsibilities that are shared, the knowledge that is gained, the fun that is had, and above all the friendships that are made, the Girl Reserves holds a lasting place in the hearts of its members. The blue triangle stands for “whatsoever things are true, lovely, and of good report.”

“SOUP’S ON!” With these exciting words a mighty lunge for the stairway ensues. A milling climb to the dining room, the slap of a quarter into the hand of the treasurer, and then a sigh of contentment from having reached the table without mishap.

After the dinner, business is devoted to club activities. An inspiring talk by Mr. Montgomery, whose jovial smile and friendly advice is welcomed by everyone, concludes the session.

The main activities are Mother and Son, Father and Son, Girl Reserves, Football, and Faculty Nights. The administration activities are climaxed by Retreat at Camp Buddy in June. Throughout is the standard of Hi-Y, “To create, maintain and extend the high standards of Christian character.”

YOU stumble upon a student madly pulling his hair and talking aloud. Bewildered but determined to solve the mystery, you follow. He enters a room. You steal inside, to be greeted by the clatter of typewriters, the sharpening of pencils, and the wild rustle of paper. Punctuating the sounds are Miss Taylor's editorial suggestions and Mr. King's pessimistic comments on needed money.

This fever of excitement is your introduction to the development of The Gleeman.

First, a plan is formulated. A "dummy" is fashioned, indicating the arrangements of pictures and copy.

Assignments are given for write-ups and the business staff solicits advertisements and raises funds for publication.

In June The Gleeman is presented to the students.

"NEW BELLE HOP! Buy your copy now!"

Remember? Only the short memory will forget the school paper.

The Belle Hop appeared this year in smaller size, but is issued bi-weekly instead of every three weeks. Striving to stimulate interest in the publication, the staff inaugurated, with the basketball issue, a new makeup. The ideas clicked immediately with the student body. Added features were the "We Spoke To" column, presenting interviews with celebrities; the book review, giving comments on latest publications; and the revival of the Alumni notes.

The undergraduates are reminded that The Belle Hop needs increased support. The staff should not have difficulty in presenting any issue. The student body of Bellevue High is large, and resourceful enough to insure publication without financial worries.

IF your imagination pictures Amazons at the mention of the Girls' Athletic Club, slay the thought. The members are girls first, athletes afterward.

They endeavor to learn something of sports, to make friends, and to enjoy good times. They take charge of Gym classes. They sponsor, choose, and coach the teams for class athletics. They seek to inspire friendliness through healthful exercise and athletic competition. They strive to develop friendships through various parties, sports meetings, and a banquet every two months.

A noteworthy project this year, aside from athletics, was the gathering of books for persons who lacked money to buy reading material.

Credit is due to Miss Seldon for her diligent work in the betterment of the G. A. C.'s.

Freshmen! Sophomores! Listen! Do you aspire to be actors or actresses? If so, be advised that Bellevue High School has for dramatics a promising organization in the Players' Guild. It will be worth your while to apply for membership. You will acquire through the Guild considerable knowledge of acting and you will have excellent opportunity to develop some delightful acquaintanceships.

The success of the Guild is to be credited to Miss Ashe, who has given her time and knowledge of dramatics to further the development of the organization. One of the best presentations was the Armistice Day pageant.

ORCHESTRA

*Luck to you
Madlyn Hine*

JAZZ? Yes, we know you like it; but did you give ear to the splendid music of your Bellevue High School orchestra? If you didn't you missed much that was worth while.

Reinforced by new musicians to reach a total of sixty-three members, the organization, under the baton of Robert H. Ruthart, enjoyed another successful year. Besides its traditional duties in connection with chapel, plays, and entertainments, the orchestra gave several concerts; and, by virtue of its superiority in the rendition of the classical, it achieved the distinction of being chosen as host for the All-Western Pennsylvania District Orchestra, assembled here in December.

For the fourth time our orchestra acquired the State Championship at Altoona, and a national rating at Columbus, Ohio.

THE HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

U MM! Sniff that appetizing aroma? That's the cooking class in session.

Hear that buzzing of machinery? The sewing unit is in action.

These two groups form the Home Economics Club, one of the most important organizations in Bellevue High. Composed of students who are most interested in those arts, the club enjoys affiliation with the Pennsylvania State Federation of Student Home Economic Clubs. Proud of these facts, we salute the members and the sponsors, Miss Buttermore and Miss Metzger.

The club's program for the year was carefully arranged to prove both instructive and entertaining. Talks on fashions by Miss Toni Drake and on foods by Miss Prudence Penny, both of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, were features.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

Do, re, mi, fa, so, la, ti, do!

No; this is not a widely-heralded wage scale, but a striking example of perseverance, with favorable publicity bestowed. Bellevue High School's A Cappella Choir is scaling heights of achievement.

Reading notes and singing scales, practicing diligently and performing with increasing brilliance, so members of this choir under the direction of Mr. Brautigam have reached a point heretofore unattained by that organization.

The singers were rewarded by winning first place in the state-wide competition at Altoona.

Hats off in salute to the choir and Mr. Brautigam.

GIRLS' CHORUS Love, Jane.

ALL dressed in white, the Girls' Chorus, numbering fifty strong, parade onto the stage. Quietly they take their places before the footlights. A hush comes over the audience. Mr. Brautigam raises his fistic baton. The girls quickly respond with a rendition of songs which have won them favorable recognition.

"Tamberine, I swing you jingling" and "Down the street a violin playing" have become familiar strains to all who have followed the Girls' Chorus in its travels. "The Tamberine Girl," a musical picture of a dancer, won for the Chorus second place in the county contest at Clairton in 1937. Though the group lost in the district, the remarkable work of this organization was carried on by Alice Steinmark, soprano soloist, who competed in the state finals at Altoona, Pennsylvania.

ART CLUB

HAVE you ever had the feel for the brush? The desire to create a beautiful design? If, perhaps, you would desire to "mess" in the different "hues", the art course offers it to you. It is from this assemblage of artists that the Art Club has developed.

The purpose of this club is the designing of decorations for dances, plans for stage settings, signs, posters, and other art work for the different activity projects. Funds are also raised for equipment and other expenses. One means was painted plaques sold to the students.

The club is a select group composed of only twenty-seven members, each specializing in a different type of work. The Art Club owes much thanks to Mr. Wallace for its organization and continuation.

Best Wishes

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

"WATCH THE BIRDIE, please! Now, don't move! There, a perfect picture!"

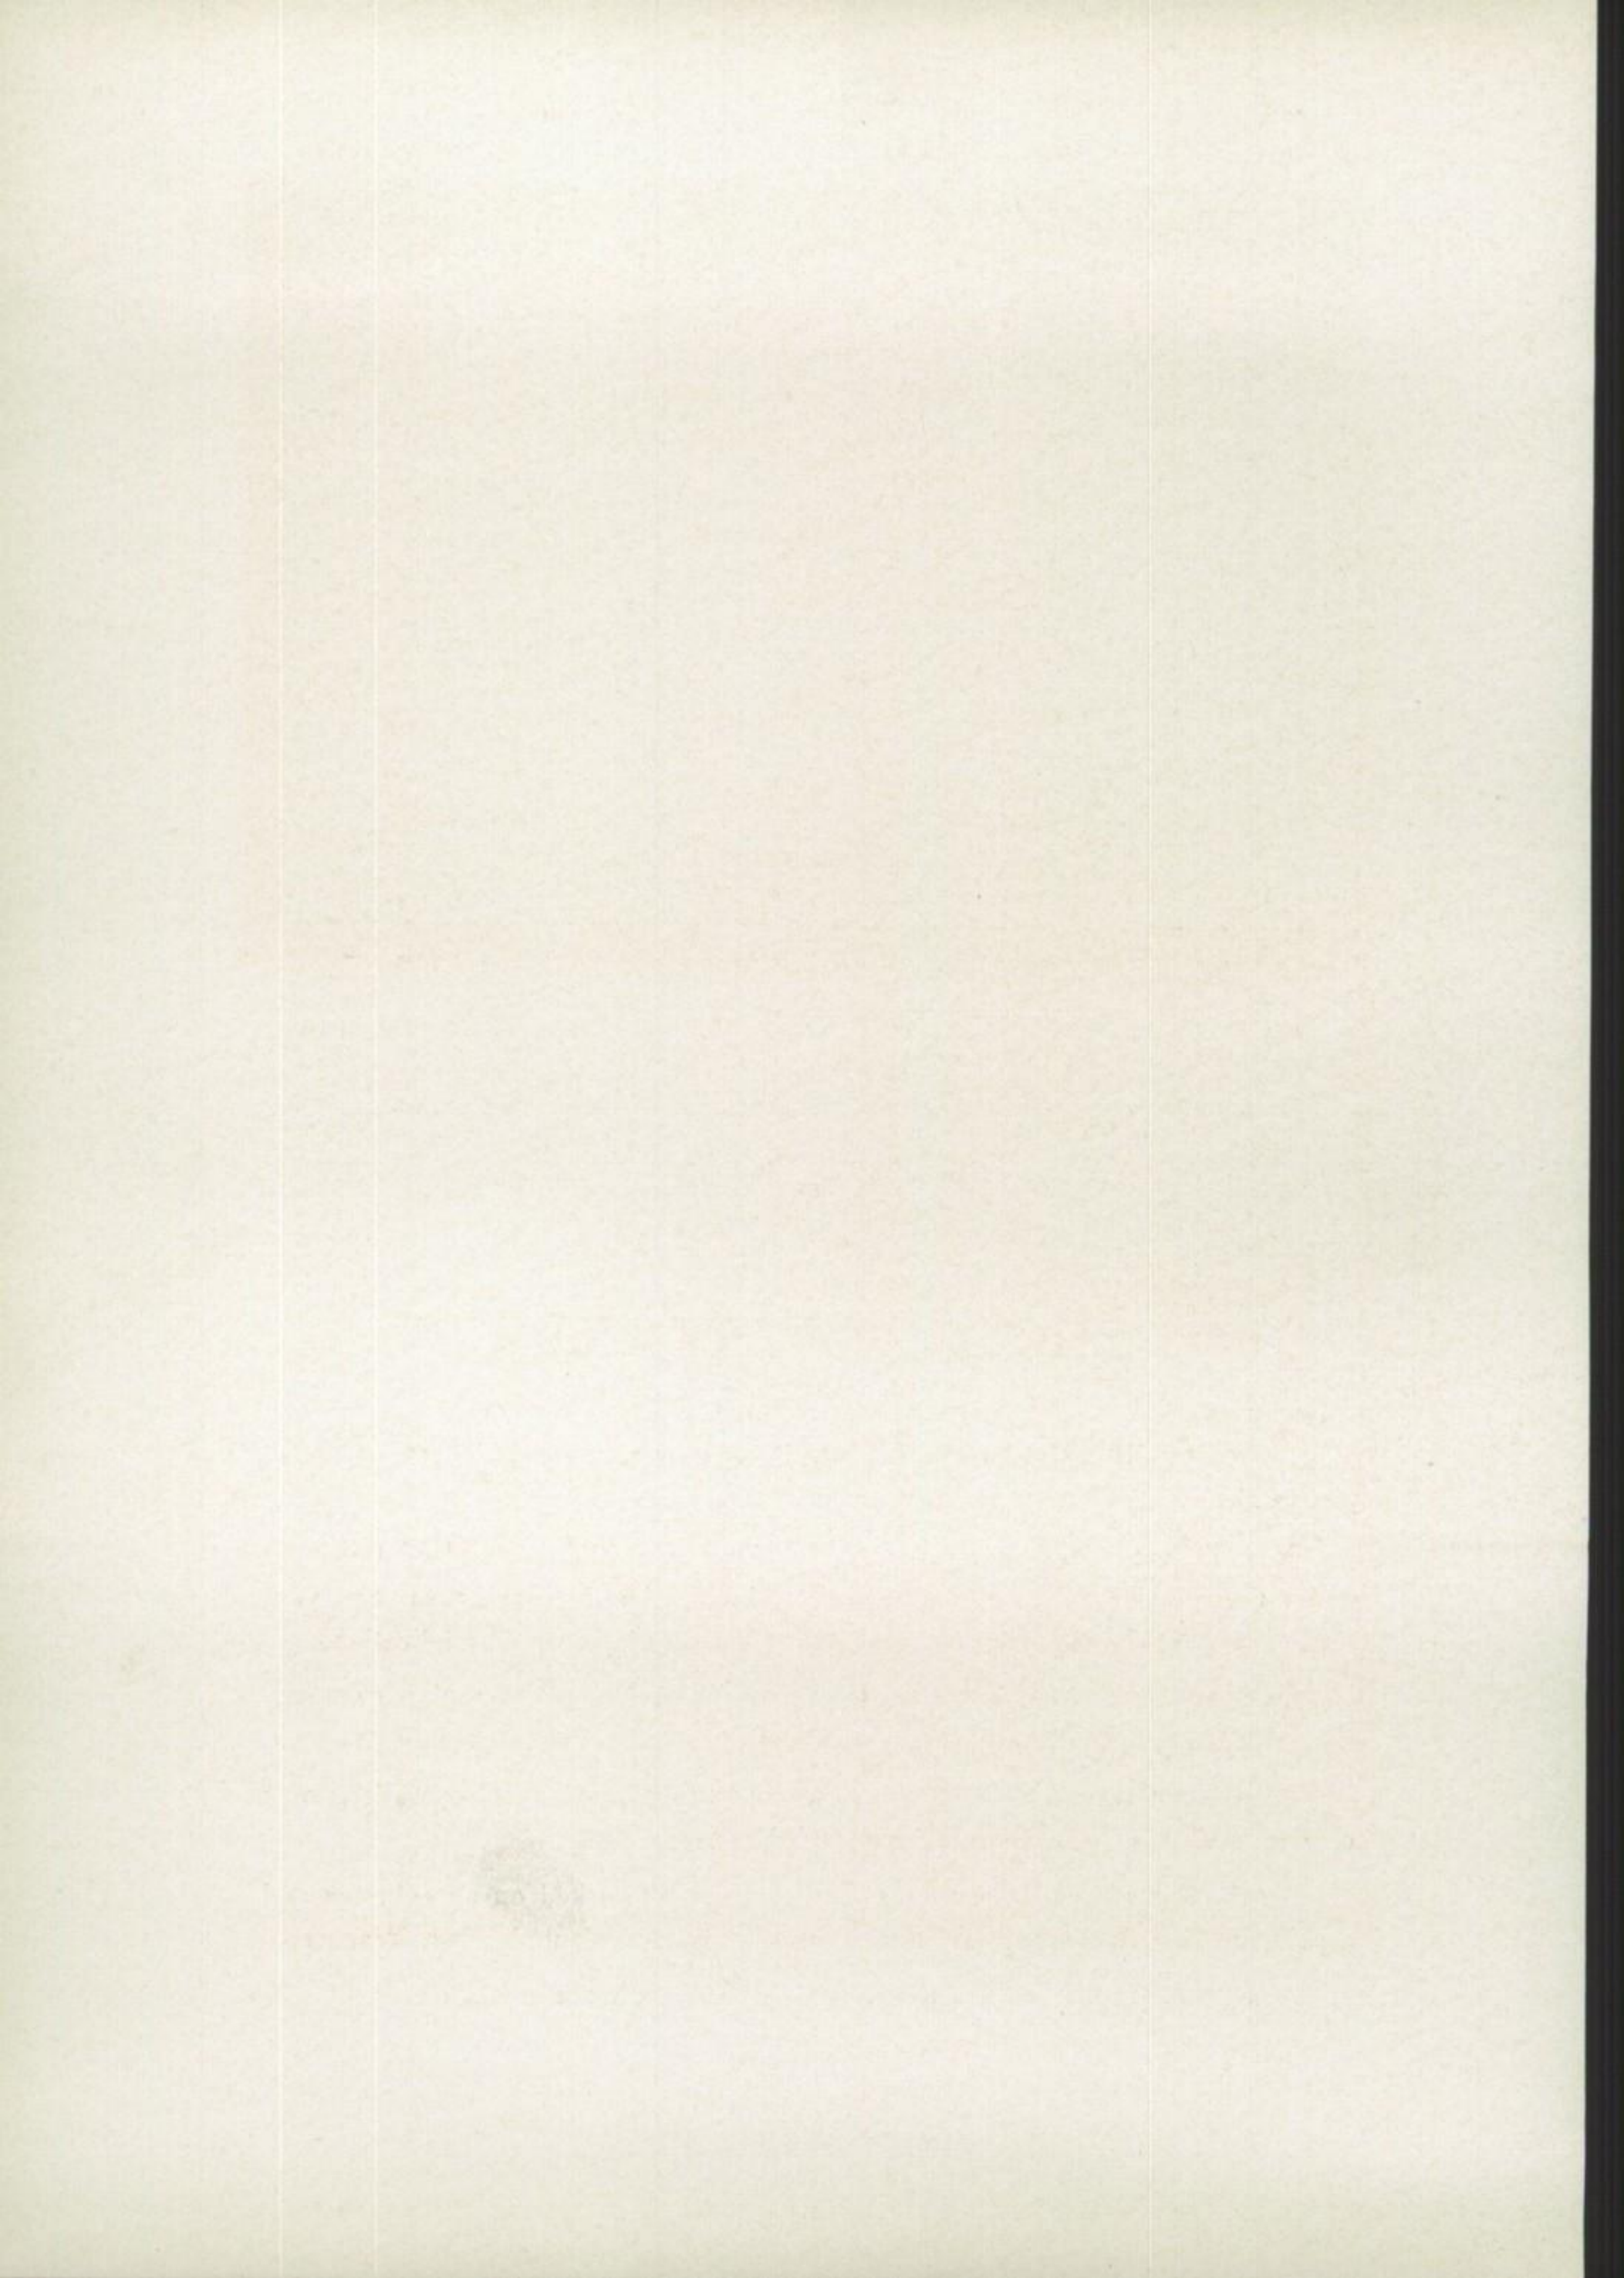

Yes, Bellevue High has a new club—the Photo Club—organized this year under the sponsorship of Mr. Gilliland. Qualifications? Have a camera, purchase a developing and printing set, and membership is yours on application.

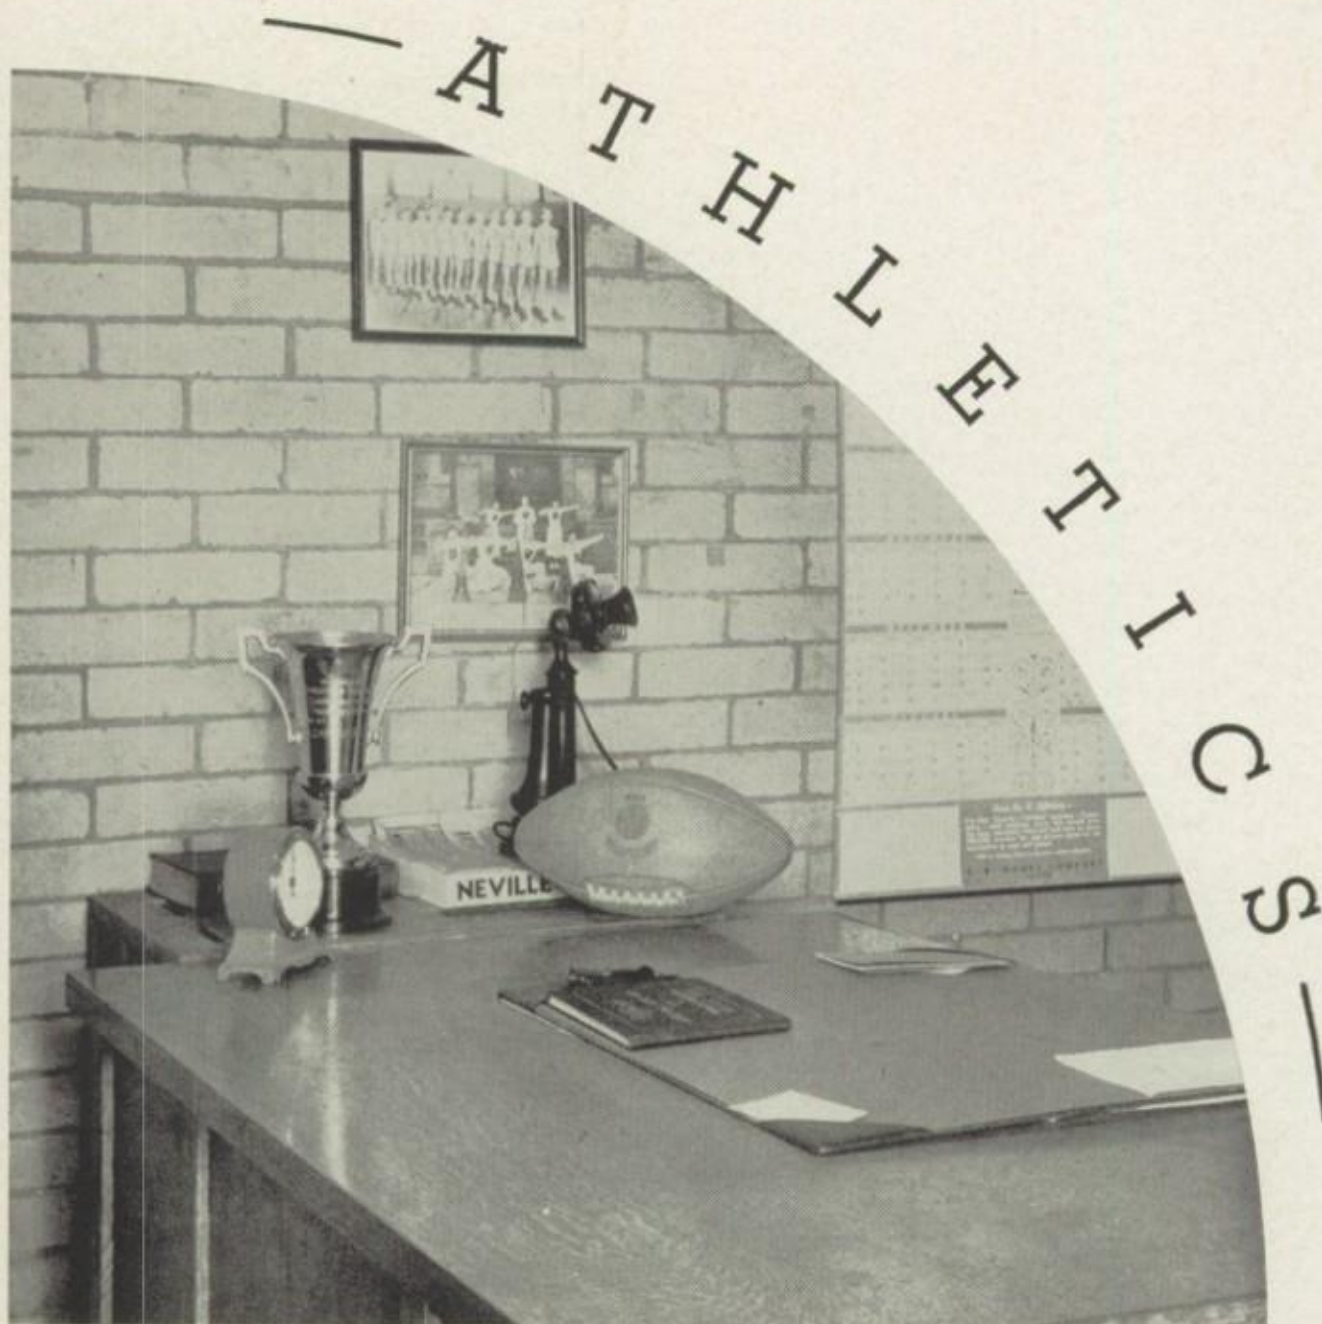

The club is divided into four groups—commercial photography, construction, trick photography, retouching, and tinting.

In the first semester, the members learned the principles and operations of a camera, and how to develop and print pictures.

In the second semester, the construction group worked on an enlarger and a printer. The retouching and tinting group began work under Mr. Wallace.

The photographs in the Annual are proof of their accomplishments.

BELLEVUE 12—CRAFTON 12

IN the most spirited game of the year, a rejuvenated Bellevue team tied a highly-rated Crafton eleven. The Red and Black's first score came at the end of a sustained drive, with Kean going over on the trusty "68". The second marker came as the result of a pass to Gerlach over the center of the line. He caught it on the forty, and went over standing up. The blocking down field was noteworthy on this play, our line showing up especially well. Crafton tied the score on long passes, which were a constant thorn to the home team.

BELLEVUE 6—AVALON 0

BEFORE a wildly cheering crowd, estimated at approximately 1000, the Red and Black came through with flying colors. In a characteristically hard-fought game the Blue and Gold of Avalon succumbed, and the biggest game of the year went down in the victory column for Bellevue. Good old "68" turned the trick, and Kean went over standing up to make the lone score. The game was very close throughout. In scrimmage the Red and Black gained 142 yards, the Blue and Gold 147. This game ended a successful year in the annals of Bellevue football.

BELLEVUE ELIMINATES MIDLAND

FOR the first time in eight years, a Bellevue team "copped" the section. Showing masterlyness equal to a college performance, the Red and Black turned back an attempted Frank Merriwell finish by their foe, Midland. The Crucibles saw their chances of playing on the Stadium floor dimmed when Bellevue stemmed their belated rally and won 26 to 25.

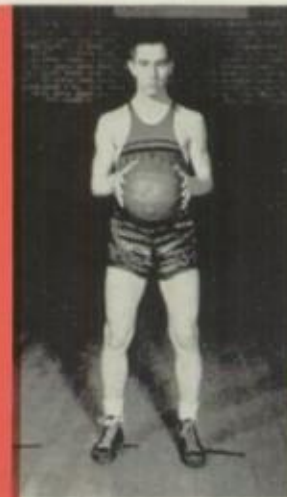

The squad vowed they would play on the Stadium floor. A realization of this "pipe dream" came true when they defeated Midland.

EAST McKEESPORT BOWS

The winning spirit still prevailing, the Bellevue five romped into the Stadium, gathered together, and came away on the fat side of a 44-24 score.

With a will to win, the team played a great brand of ball. All through the first quarter Bellevue was held on even par with their foe, East McKeesport, but with the start of the second quarter the Red and Black forged ahead rapidly. The cooperative spirit of the boys helped largely in "tucking away" this game.

PLAY-OFFS

BELLEVUE DEFEATED

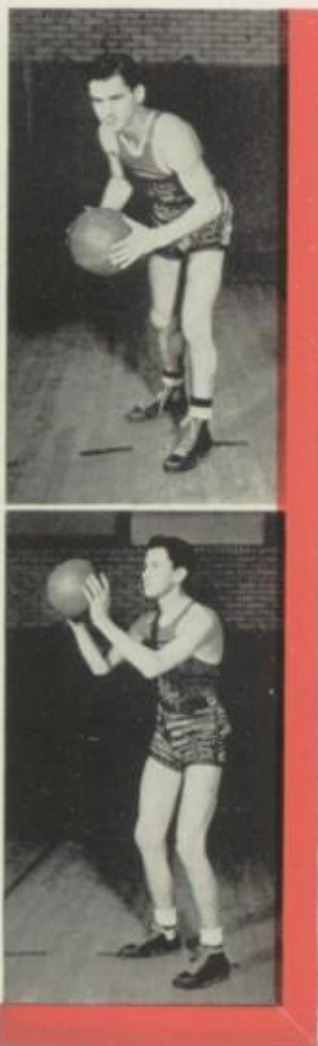

GRABBING the slim end of a 37-25 score, the Red and Black were conquered by a formidable foe from Burgettstown. They needed no alibi; they were beaten by a team which possessed the spirit, determination, and better all around playing.

Burgettstown started the game with a bang. They quickly flooded the Bellevue basket with a torrent of shots which proved effective. The score speedily ran up until it stood 24-12 at the half.

Bellevue at first could not cope with this attack, but with the start of the second half they rallied, gamely attempting a comeback. Their thirteen points were of no avail, however, as Burgettstown ran up a similar number during this half. The game ended with Bellevue still in arrears.

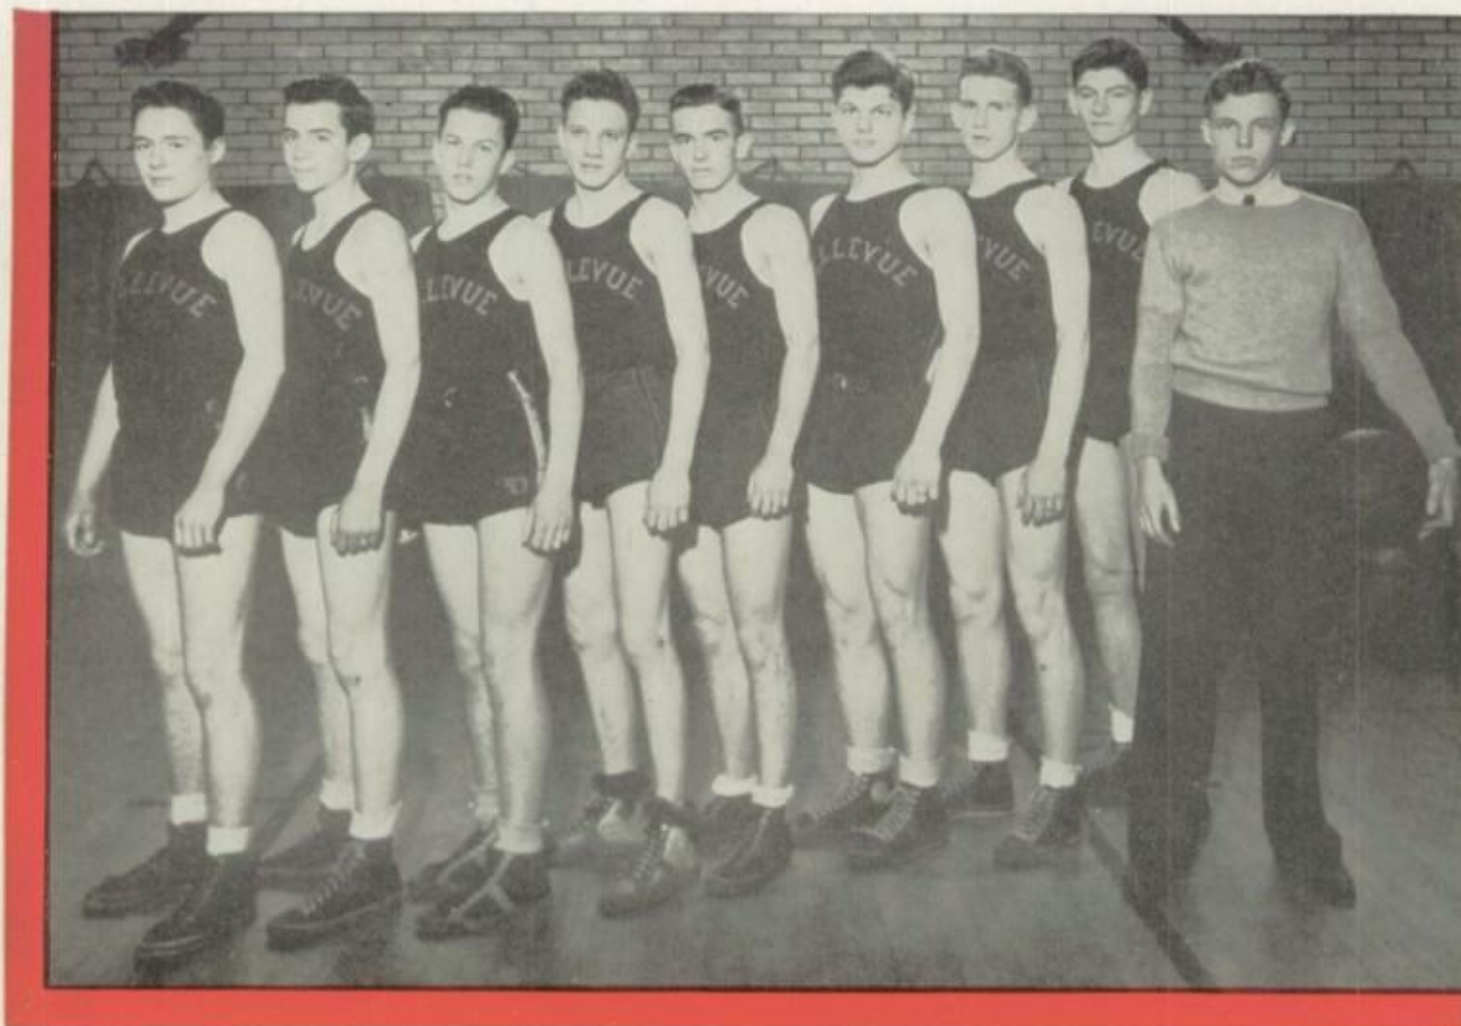

Though defeated in the finals, Bellevue High, for the two playoff games they won, received two new basketballs to place in the trophy case. In this way Bellevue ended an excellent season of basketball, and Coach Zundel now looks forward to an even more successful year. Though he loses three regulars, Luther, Thompson, and Dickson, these losses are counterbalanced by the return of regulars Morcroft, Kean, and Ludwig plus the excellent reserve squad. SWIMMING

SPLASH! A girl who essayed a jack-knife from Bellevue High's new diving board hit the deep blue pool, full length and face down. Much laughter! Another "freshman" attempted a swan dive. She too flopped and smacked the water mightily. But before long these same girls were reported diving in fine style, and the sounds of merriment thereafter were those of sheer delight from the increasing proficiency in the sport.

To Miss Seldon goes the credit for the excellent coaching of the girls in the art of swimming. Novices were taught fundamental principles and were introduced to the back-stroke, side-stroke, dog-paddle, and other features.

Besides the regular periods for instruction, extra classes were instituted for girls who wished to further their abilities.

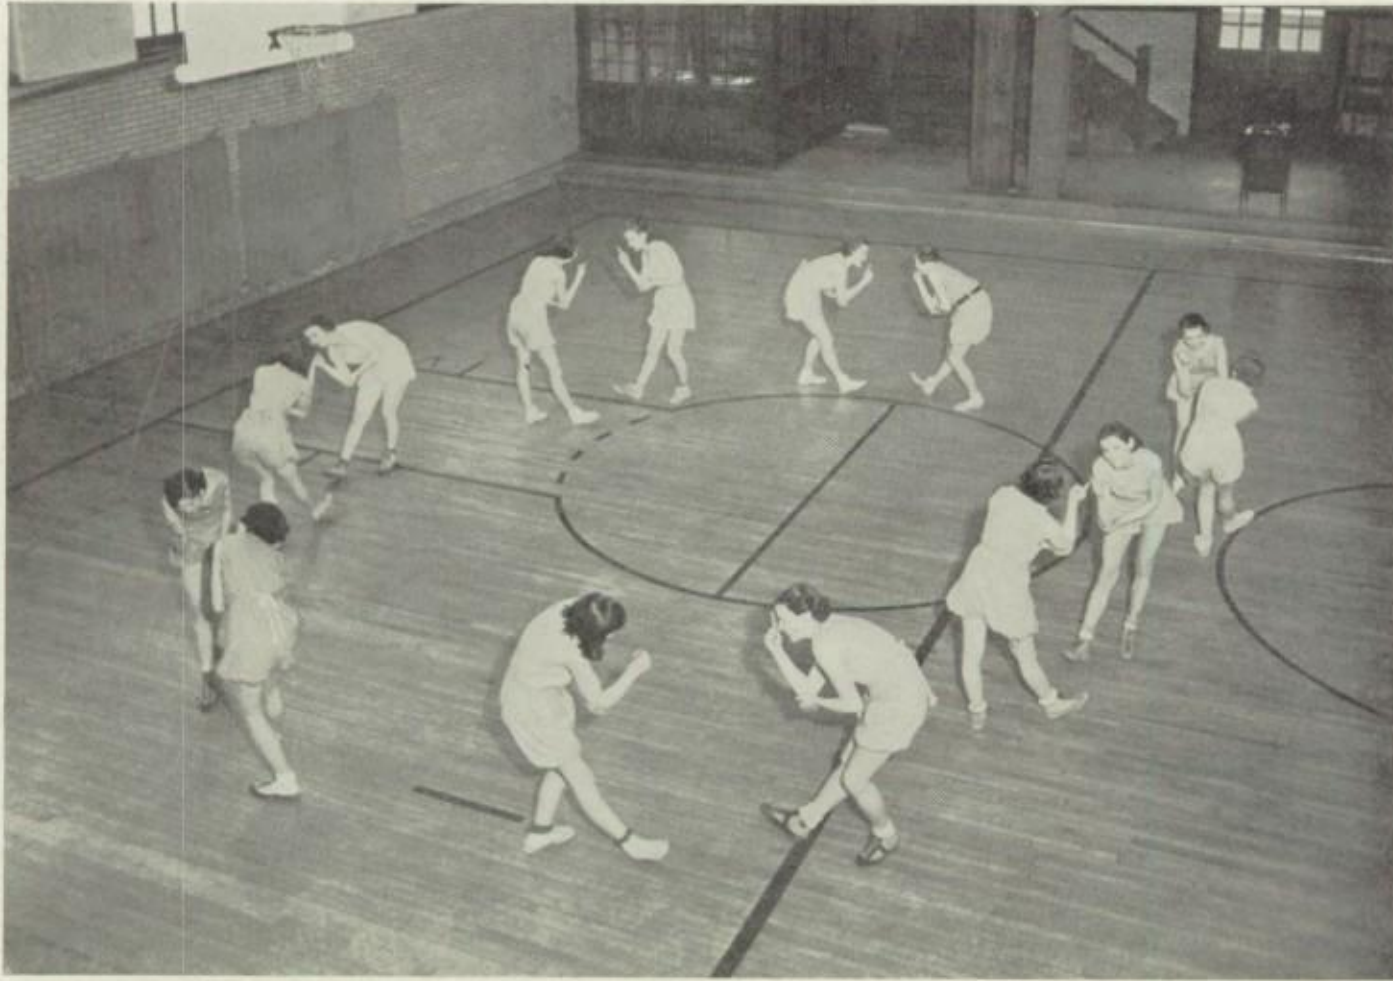

DID you ever try rope-jumping while virtually sitting down? If you haven't, take a whirl. You'll be surprised how good a seat will look. Once you have mastered the stunt, you'll appreciate the proficiency acquired by the girls in their gym classes. Trick rope-jumping is an additional accomplishment, and the girls can sling a wicked rope.

The girls played little soccer this year, but were out for several practice sessions. In their lavender gym suits, they braved chill winds and mud, at times, to follow the ball.

ROPE JUMPING and SOCCER

ONE, TWO, THREE! Heel, toe, heel! Right, left, right! One, two, three!" So goes the count for folk dancing. Why? Well, we suspect that it's to put the girls in trim for the public address dances. Grace increases chances for hits at the Senior Farewell, you know.

When Spring fever strikes, the girls trot forth in track attire. Races chase the seasonal lassitude. Rounding into athletic condition, the girls, in a few days, are competing earnestly.

FOLK DANCING and TRACK

“Y OUR SERVE!” Sounds like tennis, but it’s volleyball. The idea is to put the ball over the net. Hands only are used. Too often, the ball falls on the wrong side. This year, inter-class games were played after school with fun for every body.

Although the school has no courts, tennis is popular with the girls of Bellevue High. They like the “Y” courts. You guessed it; the girls beat the boys there. Oh, well, you can always go to the movies, boys.

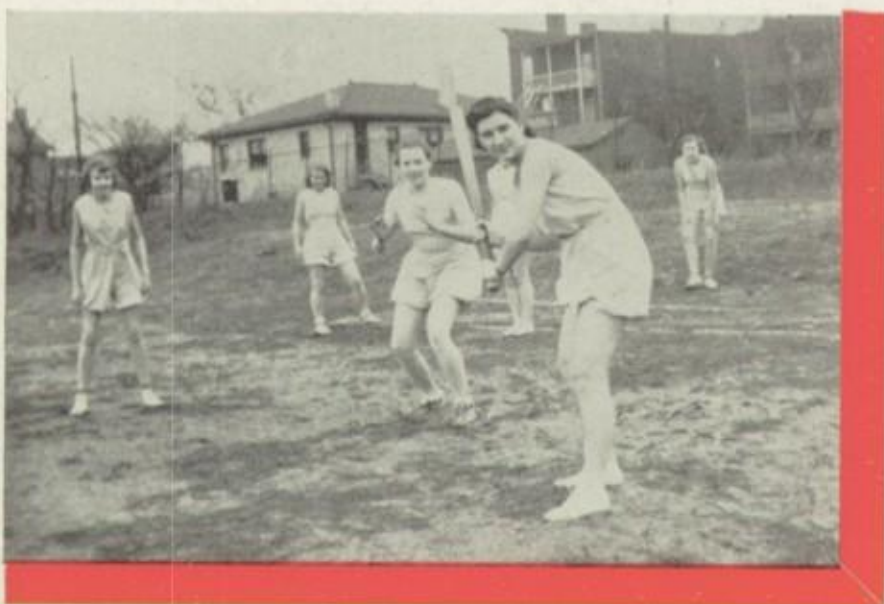

VOLLEYBALL and TENNIS

THE new basketball rules bothered the girls a bit, but they've mastered them. After the boys' season was over, class teams were picked, and the battle for supremacy was on. Co'or teams, formed for those who did not make the class teams, played each other.

Mushball? It's a genuine thrill to see a home run with three men (girls, pardon us) on base. Yes, the girls can play. If the boys want a game, let the G. A. C.'s know; they'll arrange it.

BASKETBALL and MUSHBALL

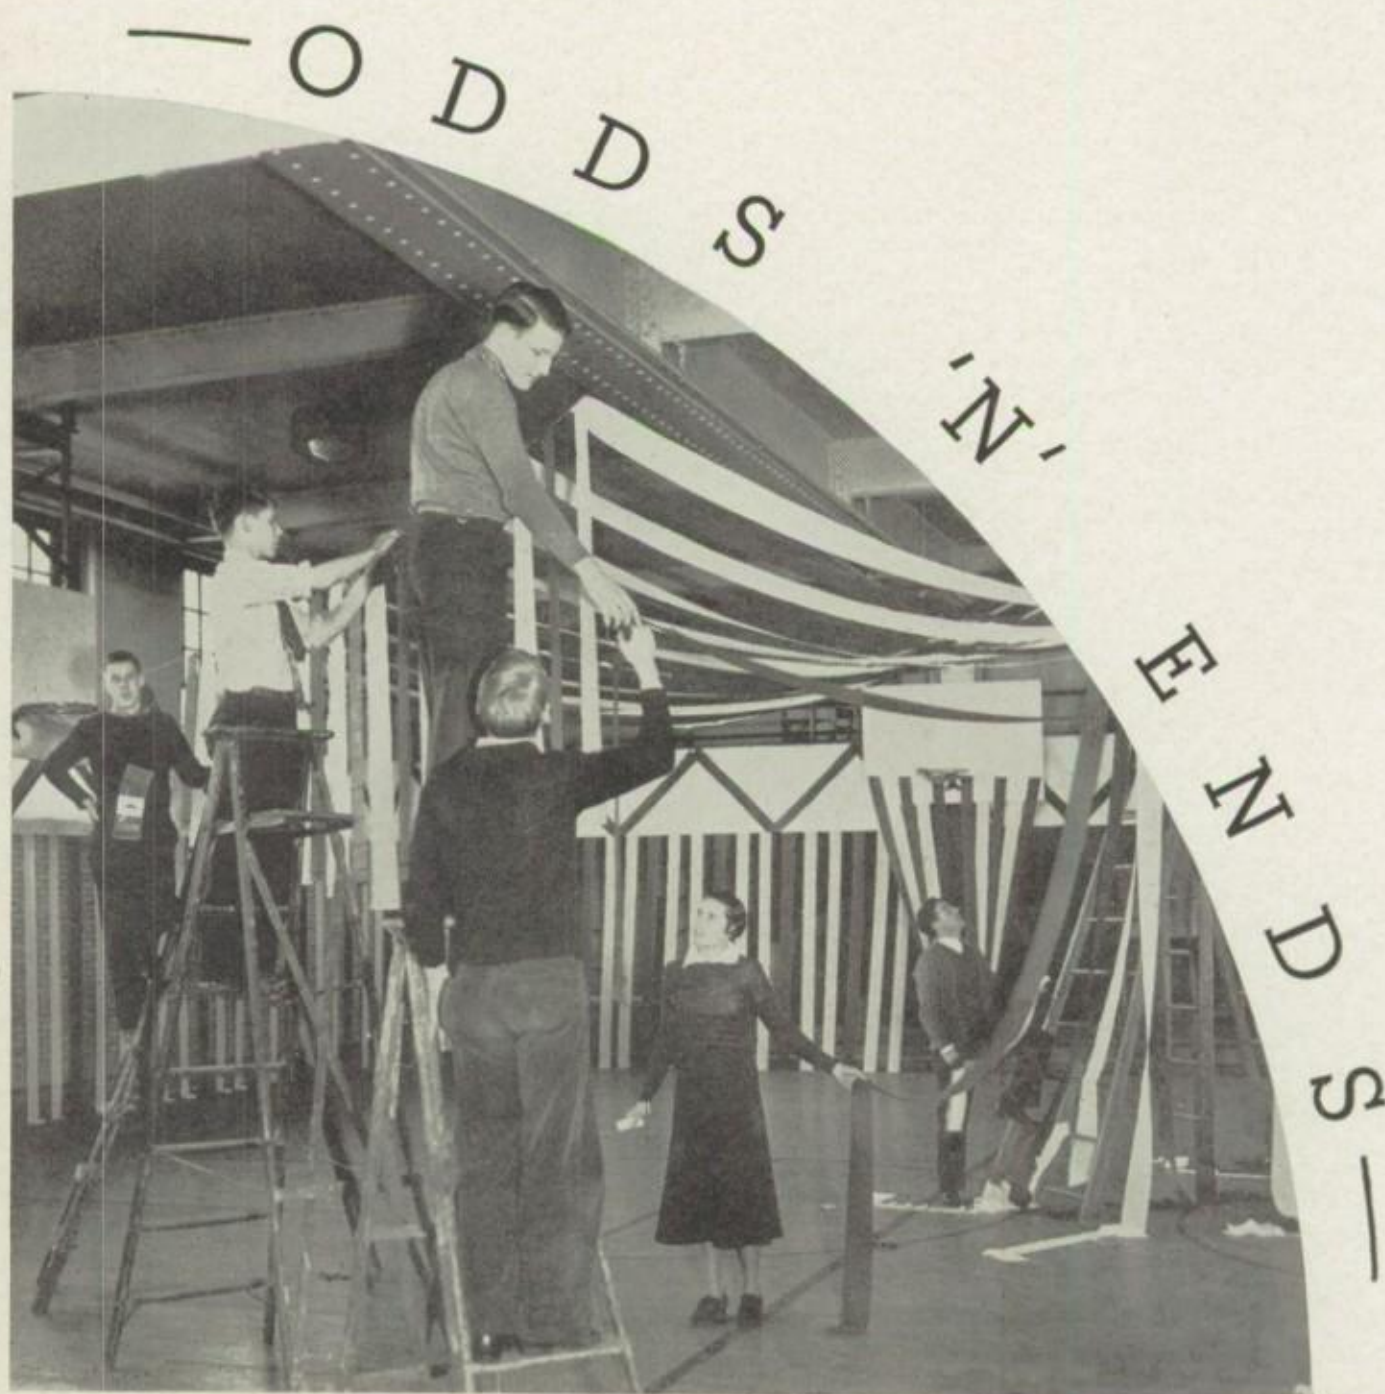

Dear Barbara: -

It seems that I've been living at your place lately, but I've enjoyed myself very much. I didn't know how to act when you gave me that little talk last week - but I think it really helped. I've enjoyed being with you and hope I can continue to be with you. You are fine person and draw lots of the best. You're done pretty damn well this year - especially toward the end. Keep it up.

Love and kisses

JUNIOR PROM

GOOD-NIGHT!" Jack Santa's baton fell, the soft strains of his musical theme faded, and the gay crowd on the gymnasium floor halted reluctantly as the orchestra was silenced. The big event of May fifteenth was over. So ended the successful Junior Prom.

Though in an atmosphere of gayety tinged with sadness, the seniors enjoyed their last dance as Bellevue High students. Clever decorations and charming music made it one of the most enjoyable affairs of the school year.

SENIOR FAREWELL

THE MUMMY AND THE MUMPS

“W HERE’S DOOLY?” That caused Merce Stern a lot of trouble, but “The Mummy and the Mumps” gave the audience a heap of enjoyment. The comedy revolved around a mummy case and a case of mumps in a school for young ladies. Clever dialogue and excellent acting made the production by the January graduating class a success.

On April thirtieth, the class of June came through in fine style with “The Whole Town’s Talking”. Laughter shook the Bellevue High School auditorium as the humorous plot was unfolded.

NO NEED going to the "big city" for the latest dresses. We saw them in Bellevue High School, made by our sewing class under the tutorage of Miss Metzger. She was proud of them, and so were we.

Speaking of pride, Miss Johnston and Miss Thomas guided the Girl Reserves to numerous successful entertainments this year. On March twelfth, mothers and daughters enjoyed an afternoon tea. Music and singing by members of the club supplied the entertainment.

COME one, come all. See the newest vogue in woodwork.

Yes, the school carpenters placed some of their handiwork on exhibition for the photographer. An array of desks, chairs, lamps, and magazine holders, with a glistening coat of varnish, was photographed for your approval. The boys owe their skill to Mr. Ford's teachings.

Under the skillful management of Mr. Wallace, an art exhibit, also, was beautifully arranged and caught by the cameraman. The Art Club officers were photographed with the various pieces, representing different phases of art, which were selected from the permanent exhibit given to the high school by the Pittsburgh Press.
